THE LUCK OF THE IRISH

Vickie L. Detert (1/3/24)

The luck of the Irish! What's that you say?

Clovers and rainbows and bright shiny days.

Leprechauns leaping and all is serene.

Oh what a fanciful and joy-filled scene.

But, am i lucky? Fate is not kind.

Still, as i grow older, i really don't mind except for the aching, the weakness, the pain,

*the need for more rest and my hair
turning gray.*

So much for whining. I'd rather have fun.

No pot of gold? Oh well, life is not done.

And what i've been given since before i was born

was blessings from God so who's keeping score.

My Father has sent me more than i deserve.

No luck and no magic just His love and His word.

*He gave me His Son who has freed me
from sin.*

He gave me His Spirit and faith comes from Him.

*So luck of the Irish! Well, Irish or not,
i'll celebrate life every day and thank God.*
